Segment Overview (Shown as Reported)

Nursing as Discontinued Operations; Dev. To Hold Excluded from Adj. EBITDA

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Changes in the disclosure as of the end of Q4 2023 (previous year's figures adjusted accordingly).

The majority of the nursing business was reclassified as discontinued operations. As a consequence, nursing is no longer reported as a management segment but as discontinued operations; a small part of the asset portfolio with a segment EBITDA of €21.6m was reclassified into the rental segment.

The earnings contribution from Development to Hold has been excluded from the Development Segment. As a consequence, the consolidation line item now only includes intragroup profits/losses. All earnings contributions from Development to Hold (€14.7m in 2023) are recognized in the valuation result and therefore outside of the Adjusted EBITDA. This change ensures alignment with the IFRS standard on the fair value measurement of investment properties (IAS40).

CBRE Market Outlook Germany 2024 (Jan. 2024)

"The high demand for apartments from tenants and investors meets a low level of new supply. As a result, rents are continuing to rise and yields are stabilizing, particularly for core properties."

"The residential transaction market will continue to develop at a rather moderate pace in 2024. However, especially international institutional investors see considerable opportunities in the residential market due to the excellent fundamental data."

"There are signs that the prices of modern ESG-compliant properties will stabilize over the course of the year and we expect the transaction market to pick up overall in the second half of the year."

Value Data Insights (formerly empirica-systeme) Q4 2023 (Jan. 2024)

"The price slump is coming to an end. Price declines are continuously flattening out and in some cases prices are already rising again. This is by no means solely due to the more moderate interest rates, but above all to the increasing shortages on the housing market."

"Overall, prices should therefore soon move from sideways to upwards and transaction volumes should also pick up again. Unlike the commercial real estate markets and the rental market, the outlook for the residential market in 2024 is already much brighter again - at least for owners or investors."

JLL Wohnungsmarkt Deutschland (Jan. 2024)

"Outlook: Rising number of deals, slight increase in volume in 2024 & prime yields with expected sideways movement in 2024."

Bulwiengesa Immobilienindex 1975-2023 (Jan. 2024)

"Due to the current and future demand for housing and the continuing low level of construction activity, there will be a significant shortage of supply. Further significant price reductions are therefore rather unlikely."

ImmoScout24 WohnBarometer Q4 2023 (Jan. 2024)

"The transaction market is experiencing a new upswing. After a year characterized by restraint, the ImmoScout24 Residential Barometer for the fourth quarter of 2023 shows a clear upward trend in asking prices for new builds. The trend is also positive for existing properties. There are only isolated price reductions. Demand for existing condominiums is rising significantly across Germany."

Immowelt Preiskompass Q4 2023 (Jan. 2024)

"In H1 2024, the market's inertia makes widespread and continuous price increases rather unlikely. For very attractive markets as well as for certain property types, such as energy-efficient apartments, prices may rise even earlier. On a broad level, however, the current framework conditions suggest that prices will not rise again until after this summer - especially if credit conditions continue to improve and there is clarity regarding subsidies."

Engel & Völkers Marktbericht Deutschland 2024 (Feb. 2024)

"As financing conditions improve, institutional investors are also expected to return to the residential and commercial property market in greater numbers."

"Prices for multi-family homes are likely to bottom out in many places in spring 2024."

Dividend Proposal for 2023

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Context

- Wide range of expectations and preferences among shareholder base - ranging from no dividend to full dividend and anything in between.
- Dividend is one cornerstone of our equity story and Vonovia considers long-term reliability even in more challenging times as an asset given the robustness of its cash-flow generating business model.
- Preference for a dividend payment has increased in recent months but part of investor base remains concerned about leverage.

Shareholders to decide

- Management and Supervisory Board only make a dividend proposal.
- Shareholders' prerogative to make the dividend decision.
- Vonovia seeks to make a proposal that will achieve a majority at the AGM.

Proposal

- Management and Supervisory Board have therefore decided to propose a dividend of €0.90 (+6% y-o-y) to the AGM on May 8, 2024. Similar to the previous seven years, a scrip option will be available to our shareholders.

Rationale

- Last year's dividend proposal was to make a 50% cut to strike a balance between two fundamentally different sets of expectations among shareholders. This proposal was supported by 99.5% of all shareholders who voted at the AGM.
- The current Environment remains challenging, but conditions have improved (rent growth, inflation, interest rates, transaction market, reduced distance to value trough).
- A full cut does not appear warranted and would be contradictory in light of the clearly improved environment.
- Similarly, a full dividend would send the wrong message about capital allocation and capital discipline.
- The anticipated cash out will be around €400m (assuming prior years' scrip ratio), and Vonovia considers the economic impact of the cash portion of the dividend to be manageable.

Internal Investigation Completed

No Material Financial Impact on the Company. No Indications that Tenants Have Suffered any Damage

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Background

- One year ago, in March 2023, investigators seized documents from Vonovia; the authorities were acting on grounds of suspected potentially problematic activities regarding the relationships with subcontractors related to heating systems.
- The comprehensive internal investigation immediately initiated by Vonovia and supported by the law firm Hengeler Mueller and the auditing firm Deloitte has now been completed.
- As part of the forensic analysis, an extensive database was reviewed, numerous interviews were conducted, and the findings were compared with the investigation file of the public prosecutor's office.

Findings

- Although the prosecutor's investigation is still ongoing, at this stage, the investigation has confirmed Vonovia's initial assessment:
  - Only a small number of former employees were involved in clear misconduct when dealing with subcontractors. Vonovia is the injured party, not a defendant.
  - There is no material financial impact on the company. The contracts that are currently the subject of the investigations only amount to approx. 0.5% of Vonovia's total order volume.
  - There are no indications that tenants have suffered any damage.
- Vonovia is examining the possibility of taking legal action for damages against involved parties.
- We have further refined the existing systems and controls in place to monitor the relationships with subcontractors so as to better protect Vonovia against such criminal conduct.
- We continue to cooperate fully with the authorities and support them in their ongoing investigations.

Transaction market remains challenging but is improving

- ✓ More benign macro backdrop. Rates have most likely peaked, providing increased resilience.
- ✓ Acceleration of rent growth is clearly coming through.
- ✓ Initial shock of sharp increase in interest rates is wearing off.
- ✓ Reservation numbers for average priced condos are improving.
- ✓ Increasing interest/engagement from potential buyers including foreign money.
- ✓ 2023 disposal track record and long-term M&A expertise.
- ✓ Increasingly attractive German resi fundamentals including widening supply/demand gap.

Organic Rent Growth & Additional Rent Increase Claim

Rent Growth Is Accelerating But Part of It Comes with a Delay

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

OVM (=local comparable rent) is defined by the Mietspiegel in most locations. It stipulates the rent level (€/sqm) landlords are allowed to charge.

The timing of the rent growth implementation is subject to the “Kappungsgrenze,” allowing for a maximum increase of 15% (20% in some markets) over three years.

The recent acceleration in OVM growth has created a bow wave of rent growth that comes with delayed implementation (“additional irrevocable rent increase claim”).

This staggered rent increase is guaranteed by law and is linked to each specific apartment.

The maximum Mietspiegel/OVM level is marked in our SAP operating system apartment by apartment, and the remaining step-up will be automatically implemented immediately after the restriction period has lapsed.

The reported percentage value for the “additional irrevocable rent increase claim” refers to the total cumulative value as of the respective point in time and will be realized in subsequent years. Contrary to the organic rent growth, the percentages from different years cannot be added.

Organic rent growth and additional rent increase claim (%)

New Performance KPIs

Discontinuation of Group FFO. Introduction of Separate Earnings and CF KPIs

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Group FFO has become an insufficient metric

Vonovia made adjustments in response to the changed environment (esp. revised capital allocation, stronger focus on cash flow generation, and introduction of joint venture structures).

As a result, the leading financial KPI, Group FFO, is no longer adequate to manage the business and measure performance, especially with a view towards earnings and liquidity management.

The Group FFO has been the best proxy for recurring cash earnings, but it is essentially a hybrid metric that has both earnings and cash flow elements. For example, it excludes the cash flow benefit from Recurring Sales and Development to Sell and the cash leakage from capitalized maintenance.

Discontinuation of Group FFO and introduction of one dedicated earnings metric and one dedicated cash flow metric.

Key metric to measure earnings capacity from the four business segments Rental, Value-add, Recurring Sales and Development.

Based on the well-established Adj. EBITDA Total and accounting for financing expenses, intragroup profits, and depreciation (impairment charges from wear and tear)<sup>1</sup>.

Adj. EBT
(Earnings
before Taxes)

(Operating
Free Cash Flow)

Key metric to measure cash flow generation.

Adj. EBT

- ✓ Widely used and well-established metric across various industries.
- ✓ Transparent non-GAAP measure that allows better reconciliation with IFRS.
- ✓ Most appropriate metric to determine the enterprise value.

FFO interest expenses and Adj. Net Financial Result are almost identical but Adj. Net Financial Result can be fully reconciled to IFRS numbers.

Depreciation refers to impairment charges from wear and tear of equipment.<sup>2</sup>

Consolidation refers to intragroup profits. Development to hold contributions are no longer included in the Adj. EBITDA but in the valuation result and hence are no longer part of the consolidation line item.

OFCF

- ✓ Includes the full cash impact from Recurring Sales and Development to Sell.
- ✓ Accounts for the cash leakage from capitalized maintenance and minorities.
- ✓ Measures the organic cash flow generation before utilization.
- ✓ Can be reconciled to IFRS.

Depreciation: reversal of the non-cash effective depreciation included in EBT.

Capitalized maintenance: maintenance that protects EBITDA and is capitalized under IFRS but non-yielding.

Cash taxes: cash tax payments to the extent they relate to Adj. EBT.

Book value of sold assets (Recurring Sales):<sup>3</sup> Adding back book value (=fair value) for cash view as EBT considers earnings and subtracts book value.

Net Working Capital: reflects changes in capital allocation of core business (predominantly Dev. to Sell).

Dividends paid to JV partner & other minorities: cash dividends paid to non-controlling interests incl. JV partner.

2024 Guidance

FY2023

| Adj. EBT  | €1,866m  | €1.7bn – €1.8bn   |
| Sustainability Performance Index (SPI) <sup>2</sup> | 111%   | 100%  |

Additional context
for 2024 estimates

- At least €3bn gross proceeds from asset disposals.
- ~€1bn yielding investments (Optimize Apartment, Upgrade Building and Space Creation).
- Development to Sell: cash flow and net working capital expected to be positive.
- Cash flow generated in Recurring Sales expected to overcompensate cash leakage from capitalized maintenance.
- Capitalized maintenance expected to be slightly above 2023.
- Cash taxes for rental and value-add segments expected to be broadly in line with 2023 (~3-5% of rental income).

New Dividend Policy

The Discontinuation of the Group FFO Requires a New Basis for the Dividend

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Context

Vonovia considers a sustainable dividend growth based on the highly robust operating business to be a key element of the general equity story.

New Dividend Policy

Vonovia intends to pay 50% of Adj. EBT plus surplus liquidity<sup>1</sup> from Operating Free Cash Flow after accounting for the equity contribution to our yielding investment program. Shareholders shall be offered the choice between cash and scrip dividends.

Rationale

The targeted pay-out ratio based on the Adj. EBT is expected to result in a very robust dividend to allow adequate returns from the core business plus the additional benefit that surplus liquidity is returned to shareholders in case it cannot be allocated to sufficiently yielding investments.

The new policy is robust across the cycle and prevents dividend payouts backed by yield compression.

It is much more resilient to adverse macro environments and ensures a fully organically funded dividend from liquidity that adequately accounts for all cash leakage and proper investment funding.

We faithfully executed on our promise.

In line with adjusted capital allocation strategy communicated in May 2022, cash generation has taken priority over profitability.

Total cash generation of €4.7bn but at the same time negative repercussions for the other segments, as expected.

Rental business is rock solid and continues to benefit from long-term megatrends.

Gross value decline of 21.2% since June 2022 (net decline of 14.0% due to compensatory effects from rent growth and investments).

LTV of 46.7% (pro forma) vs. theoretical LTV of 50.7% excl. any 2023 disposal proceeds.

Our Business Is Supported by Two Dominant Megatrends...

...But the Current Environment is a Short-term Challenge

- In addressing the consequences of the Russian war on Ukraine, central banks around the world had increased interest rates at an unprecedented speed.
- The drawback of Vonovia's stable business model in a regulated market is that it reacts only slowly to the new environment, and the initial impact on our KPIs has been negative.
- However, the new environment also accelerates the relevant megatrends around which we have built our business, leading to even stronger fundamentals in the medium- and long-term.

The new dividend policy is much more resilient to adverse macro environments and ensures a fully organically funded dividend from liquidity that adequately accounts for all cash leakage and proper investment funding.

The FY2023 dividend based on the new dividend policy would have been €1.15 (50% of €1,866m Adj. EBT but no additional surplus liquidity).

The FY2024 dividend will be based on the new policy and include 50% of 2024E Adj. EBT plus any surplus liquidity, calculated as an average of the years 2022-2024.

- Not including any disposal proceeds outside Recurring Sales & Development to Sell segments (such as JVs, disposals to CBRE, City of Berlin, City of Dresden)
- Not including cash savings from scrip dividends

Evolution of Tenant Fluctuation

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

- The fluctuation rate has been steadily declining since the IPO and is currently <8%.
- The fluctuation rate level impacts the overall rent growth as the contribution from new lettings is usually comparatively high (rent growth of ca. 10% without investments and ca. 30% with investments).

2023 onwards including Deutsche Wohnen.

Overview of Rent Growth Opportunities in Relation to OVM

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

% apartments

▪ In-place rent = OVM

- New Mietspiegel / new OVM leads to rental growth potential
- Other rental law limitations have to be checked. (1) maximum rent increase over three years; (2) 15 months between two adjustments

▪ In-place rent already higher than OVM

- Due to modernization strategy or relettings in past years
- Increases in Mietspiegel/ OVM lead to rental growth potential
- Further rental adjustments through new lettings, modernizations, and CPI-linked adjustments

Roll-out of PV Generation Capacity

- Tenant / common
- Heat pump
- Grid feed-in

R&D work (e.g. Bochum Weitmar) on storage capabilities to develop solutions to reduce the 24% grid feed-in.

Megatrends

Three Dominant Megatrends in Residential Real Estate

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Support from megatrends while other real estate sectors fight disruptive changes

Supply-/ Demand Imbalance

€100bn investment volume every year to complete 400k apartments per year.<sup>1</sup>

Climate Change

Up to €120bn investment volume every year to decarbonize Germany's housing stock.<sup>2</sup>

Demographic Change

Shortage of 2 million apartments suitable for elderly people.<sup>3</sup>

- A decaying construction industry and an ever-growing supply/demand gap are not a sustainable situation. Required investment volumes are much too high to be delivered by government or through subsidies.
- Any meaningful investment volume will require an investment and regulatory environment that is sufficiently attractive for private funding.

Rent Growth & Inflation

- No direct connection between inflation & rent growth but historic data shows strong correlation & similar growth rates over time.
- When inflation shows meaningful acceleration, rent growth cannot keep up initially due to regulatory constraints that delay implementation but rents are expected to grow faster and for longer once inflationary pressure has subsided.

Different Ways to Look at Rental Levels – Berlin as an Example

FY2023

Business Update

In-place rent (€/sqm/month). Berlin.

These levels may fluctuate a bit but as long as there is more demand than supply, there will be a general upward pressure, leading the regulated rent levels to follow in their wake.

Comparison suggests that affordability remains high compared to other jurisdictions. This view is further confirmed by the fact that the number of hardship cases in our portfolio is declining from an already low level.

In an effort to mitigate the financial burden from increased cost of living, the government has put in place various support schemes and subsidies with an aggregate amount of ca. €300bn.

The Federal Finance Ministry calculated the financial benefit of different types of households to show what the impact of the government assistance is on individual families.

Population Growth In Germany In Urban Areas

Vonovia Has Actively Managed Its Geographic Exposure to Urban Areas

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

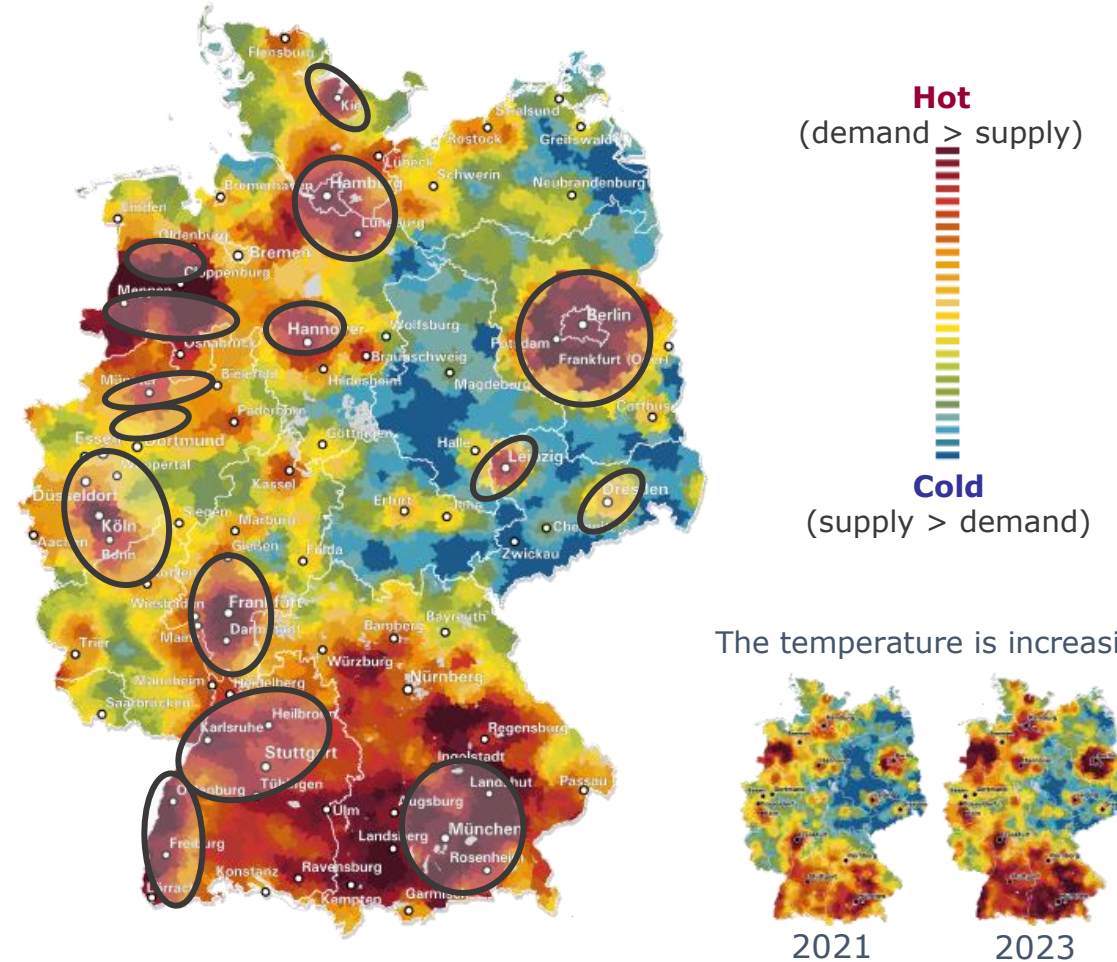

The Future of housing is in urban areas...

...and that is where Vonovia has concentrated its portfolio

- Current demographic forecasts estimate an overall population growth of as much as 6% by 2050<sup>1</sup> including the required 400k labor immigrants p.a. to balance the negative impact from Germany's adverse age demographics<sup>2</sup>.
- However, the demographic development is very different between urban and rural areas.
- Following the IPO in 2013, Vonovia pro-actively managed its geographic exposure, and today's portfolio of 550k<sup>3</sup> apartments is located in urban growth areas as a result of
  - nine large acquisitions and the seamless integration of >450k<sup>3</sup> apartments;
  - >100k units sold to focus the portfolio on urban growth regions.

Household Sizes and Ownership Structure

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

Growing number of smaller households

- While the magnitude of the overall population in Germany varies between different scenarios, the number of households is forecast to grow until at least 2035 with a clear trend towards smaller households.
- The household growth is driven by various demographic and social trends including divorce rates, employment mobility etc.

Fragmented ownership structure

- Germany is the largest housing market in Europe with ~43m housing units, of which ~24m are rental units.
- Ownership structure is highly fragmented and majority of owners are non-professional landlords.

Supply/Demand Imbalance

Gap Will Become Even Larger

FY2023

Business Update

Appendix

- Vonovia considers the structural supply/demand imbalance in urban areas to be the most relevant driver of residential property values.
- A meaningful improvement to this imbalance is not in sight:
  - Building permits are hard to obtain;
  - Craftsmen capacity remains a scarcity;
  - Residents do not want their neighborhood to change with new construction and new people (NIMBY – “Not In My Back Yard”).
- The rate of completion falls short of current construction targets.
- At the same time, the actual need for new housing is likely to be substantially larger than widely anticipated:
  - One factor that has received little attention in housing and population forecasts is the retirement of the strongest age group 50-59 years.
  - Over the next 10 years, many members from this age group will be retiring and the younger age groups are all significantly smaller.
  - If Germany is to maintain its current productivity, there remains a gap that can only be replaced through immigration. The Head of Germany’s Federal Labor Agency estimates that in order to maintain its productivity, Germany will need to see an inflow of ca. 400k immigrants per year to plug gaps in the work force as the population ages.<sup>1</sup>
  - After Russia’s attack on Ukraine, about 1.1 million people from Ukraine arrived in Germany in 2022.<sup>3</sup>
- The incremental demand for housing has so far been largely ignored in discussions around the supply/demand imbalance and the need for new construction.
