

Leta Bolli

Member of the Board

Leta Bolli (non-executive independent board member and member of the ARC) is a recognized real estate expert who currently serves as Co-Managing Director of the Center for Urban & Real Estate Management (CUREM) of the University of Zurich (since 2021). Prior to this, Leta Bolli served as a real estate professional in commercial settings, including as real estate Asset Manager and Transaction Specialist at Rodrigo & Abegg Immobilien AG and as Investment Professional for indirect real estate at Swiss Re. The general industry expertise, the background in an academic setting and her experience as a municipal/district public servant in the Swiss district of Einsiedeln broadens the diversity of perspectives represented on the board in a manner that helps to reflect the broad range of stakeholders of our company.
